

Family Travel: Age Limits at a Glance

Pelorus Voyages · Family travel brochure · 2042–43 season

Bring the whole family to the edge of the solar system. Here is everything you need to know about who can do what, and when.

Pelorus Voyages welcomes travellers from age 5 on every itinerary. A child's first sight of Earth shrinking behind the observation deck, a first low-gravity bounce at Mars Colony 1, a first look down through the clouds of Venus: these are moments families talk about for decades. To keep every excursion safe and every young explorer comfortable, some activities have a minimum age. This page gathers them in one place so you can plan your family's voyage with confidence.

The voyage itself

Children must be at least 5 years old to travel on any Pelorus Voyages itinerary, and children under 5 cannot travel under any circumstances. Every passenger under 18 must travel with a parent or guardian as a co-passenger.

Excursions by minimum age

Excursion	Minimum age	Good to know
Moon Base 7 layover	5	Parent travels with the child
Tranquility Heritage perimeter tour	5	Pressurised rover, low-activity
Pressurised Rover Tour (Moon)	5
Lunar Golf Links	8	Junior clubs for ages 8–11; standard clubs from 12
Mars Colony 1 general stay	5
Mars surface EVA excursions	12	Suit sizing available from age 12

Olympus Mons Caldera Rim hike	18	Adults only; Pathfinder class only; fitness test required
Venus — Glass Floor Tour	8	Firm
Venus — Gondola Descent	16	Firm; separate cardiovascular clearance required
Venus — Pool and Sun Deck	5
Venus — Aqua Volleyball	8
Ceres Surface Walk (tethered)	8	Tethered and guide-supervised
Ceres — The Leap	16	Firm; waiver signed at Moon Base 7, not at Ceres
Ceres Occator Crater Rim tour	8	Low-g scramble option from age 16
Saturn Ring Transit observation	5	Passive viewing
Titan Ice Flats surface sports	12	Cold-suit certification and cardio check required at any age
Enceladus Geyser Flyover	5	Passive viewing

What "firm" means

No minimum age can be waived, and the Glass Floor Tour (8), the Gondola Descent (16) and The Leap (16) are firm limits: parental consent, a signed waiver or any other arrangement cannot override them. Age is measured on the day of the excursion, not the day you book, so a birthday during the voyage can open a new adventure. Bring identification for every young traveller to each excursion check-in.

Waivers and parents at check-in

Most active excursions require a signed waiver. For any passenger under 18, a parent or guardian must be present at excursion check-in to co-sign it. Children aged 5 to 11 stay with a parent or guardian at all times on surface excursions. Children aged 12 and over may join eligible excursions without a parent alongside, once a parent has co-signed the waiver at check-in.

Avoid a disappointment at the gate

A child below an excursion's minimum age will be turned away at check-in, and the excursion fee is not refunded. The one exception is a booking that our booking system accepted when it should have refused it; if you believe that happened, contact support.

Planning tips for families

- Book age-limited excursions early. Popular tours such as the Glass Floor fill weeks in advance.
- Teenagers heading for Titan need their cold-suit certification and cardiovascular check at Moon Base 7 before the vessel leaves for the outer system.
- For The Leap, sign the waiver at Moon Base 7; it cannot be signed at Ceres.

Full details, including medical requirements for each activity, are in Section 6 of the Medical Clearance and Pre-Voyage Fitness Guide. We can't wait to welcome your family aboard.

